Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 5-16, and 19-21 as best understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hohkibara et al. (U. S. Patent 6,438,436).

As to claims 5-16, Hohkibara discloses a method to optimize maintenance of assets and production (column 3, lines 17-25). Hohkibara very broadly explain the method of maintenance and production schedules, as well as maintaining the production while the maintenance of assets is in progress.

As to claims 19-21, Hohkibara discloses a system (column 2, lines 50-53) to optimize maintenance of assets and production.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed April 23, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding the applicant's anticipation discussion, the examiner has taken the broadest meaning of "a blocking order" as an order (ORDER, ARRANGE, MARSHAL,

Art Unit: 2125

ORGANIZE, SYSTEMATIZE, METHODIZE mean to put persons or things into their proper places in relation to each other), which blocks (barricade, barrier, blank wall, blockade, roadblock, stop, wall). As noted by the applicant on sheet 16, lines 5-8, of the amendment "a short range ---- can be scheduled", which clearly indicated that a production scheduling for maintenance works is generated.

Regarding applicant argument that Hohkibara et al. invention "allocated the maintenance as opposed to the receipt of the maintenance request", the only time one can allocate is after receiving request. The Abstract (Hohkibara et al.), states, "a work scheduling unit that receives the short-range production schedule and work scheduling information, produces a work schedule so as to fulfill the short-range production schedule, while taking account of conditions of each machine and conditions of each lot, and generates work schedule".

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
